COOD morning, Gentlemen? Do you wish to prevent premature death from diseases, then ask at once for Esewice's WONDERFUL RING? It cares Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Piles, Liver Complaints within a short period, and rapidly cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Spanus, Colid, Palpitation, Hysteria, and it keeps the blood free from all diseases by putting it only on the fluger of the left hand. I can strongly state as a means of preserving and restoring health it is unequalled, as it has been used by soveral European Ladies and Gentlemen with great success, for which I hold several unsolicited testimonials. It is the most wonderful discovery of the day. I have no heaitstion in stating before the public that all households should not be without it; and its price is also very little, only Rt. 1/8 inclading packing and postage, &c. Dozen Rs. 12/-; & dozen Rs. 7/8-. Apply to DR. B. ESENJEE.

He has erected a very confortable house, with wide halls and deep verandes, and is located upon one of the most heavenly spots in the world. On the roof he has a small observatory, from which one can see the beautiful scenery for many miles. Poor Stevenson, I am afraid, is, in a bad waydying of consumption-and I don't think he will ever leave the island alive. He has made one or two trips to Auckland and Sydney, but each time he has had violent hemorrhages, so he has abandoned the idea of more excursions. He is not at all lunely there, as while I was there he had quite a household, his wife and mother, his collaborstor of 'Wrecker' fame, with his sister, and several friends. Stevenson is not writing a new novel, as has been stated, although he works for a few hours every morning on literary matter, presumably formagarines.

SEVERAL Years ago a Dalmatian sailor, named Jerko Dominis, after innumerable adventures, hairbreadth escapes, and feats of valour, found his way to the Hawaiian Islands, where he married Liliuokalani, the daughter of a native, who in due time became Queen, making him the partsker of the honours of Royalty. As King he bore the name of Hermann I. For twenty years he governed his subjects satisfactorily, and towards the end of 1891 he died. His son Hermann II., is only six years old, and his widow is the Regent. Now this lady, knowing that her late spouse was a European, has been making strenuous endeavours to discover his felatives, and whenever a ship touched at the port she always made it a point to go on board and question the captain as to whether he knew any Dominis of Dalmatia. For a long time the widowed Queen's endeavours to find King Hermann's relatives were unsuccessful. lately the Imperial Austrian corvette Fasana touched at the Sandwich Islands, and the Dowager Queen went on board and asked the admiral whether he could tell her any thing about the Dominis family of Dalmstia. He answered in the negative, but, noticing the lady's desire to learn something about them, promised to make inquiries of the Marine Department of the War Ministry. The matter was then referred to the Foreign Office, which published an advertisement in Finne calling upon all the Dominia of Dalmatia to come forward, whereupon there was a repetition of what occurred when the American spiritualistic medium called for the spirit of Smith. Thousands of Dominis are said to have reported themselves, personally or by letter, for the name is a very common one in those parts. King Hermann's sister was, however, discovered among them, as was also his lawful wife for it appears that the late King married in Dalmatia when only a sailer. The woman now demands that the Hungarian Government should help her to her rights. She does not seek to become Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, but she asks to be declared the legitimate heir to her husband's property. Should the Hungarian Government refuse her its help, the energetic widow is determined to set out for Honolulu and posal directly to her successful rival, Queen Liliuokalani, the midow of her own husband.

whether the Government of India, in lasting orders, should make use of the singular or plural pronoun is one which, we believe, has more than once been argued in the Imperial Secretariats. Lords Northbrook and Ripon were in favour of the Government of India being referred to as a singular body, but of late years there seems to have been no recognised rule, and the Government has been 'it' to-day and they to-morrow. We learn, however, that Lord Lanedowne has expressed an opinion that it will be well in future for the Government to make use of the plural

> DEATH OF MAJOR-GENERAL GORDON.

Our readers will hear with much regret of the death of Major General Gordon, Captain-Superintendant of Police, Major-General Gordon was appointed the command of the Police Force in the beginning of 1892, while he was on leave in England, and he returned to the Colony on April 7. As will be seen from the record of his services given below, the Portuguese who was standing by and heard | country in different parts of the world, and the conversation followed to the Police had the reputation of being a gallant and intrepid soldier. After leaving the military service and becoming a civil servant, and previous to his coming to Hongkong, he held an appointment in Cyprus as chief commandant of police and inepector of prisons. During his stay in this Colony, while he was at all times possessed by the military spirit and was distinguished as a strict disciplinarian, he strove honestly so far as his experience guided him, to improve the services over which he was placed. He earned for himself the respect of the members of the Police Force, as was testified by the address presented to him on the ave of his departure, and his many friends in the Colony will sympathise with Mrs Gordon in her sore bereavement. Before his departure tous les travaux qu'il lui plaire de lui con- last Saturday, 11th fost., by the steamer Aden, he had been ill for several weeks, and it was hoped that a trip to the South of France would benefit him, but the internal malady from which he suffered had evidently obtained too strong hold upon him for he died the day before the Aden arrived at Singapore, from which port a telegram was received last night by Mr F. H. May, Acting Captain Superintendent of Police.
